WHY VITAMIN IV + INJECTION THERAPY

Nutritional IV and Injection Therapy is a way to introduce nutrients and therapeutic agents directly into the bloodstream, bypassing the gut.

As we age, our gut health + function can decline. This can be due to stress, poor diet, inflammation, chronic illness, or nutritional deficiencies. The ability of our body to absorb nutrients from the food we eat diminishes due to these factors. Even if we do our best to live a healthy lifestyle and eat nutritiously, we may not be getting all of the nutrients that are necessary for optimal health due to impaired gut health + function. This is why vitamin IV + injection therapy is important - nutrients are absorbed directly into the blood stream, not through the gut. IV +injection therapy allows for nearly 100% nutrient absorption.

Can't I just Take Oral Vitamins

Even if we have a perfect GI system (the part of our body that absorbs nutrients), our bodies will only absorb 30-50% of the oral vitamin. When given IV or injected into the muscle (IM shot), vitamins will be absorbed at nearly 100%, getting the nutrients into your tissues directly, allowing the body to function at its peak.

IV + INJECTABLE VITAMIN THERAPY HELPS WITH:

- Fatigue
- Jet Lag
